excerpt

This book is not about a revival or even one church plant. It’s not a how-to manual based on miraculous events. This is a recounting of how God revealed himself and transformed me when we stepped out in faith to be a light to the nations. It’s a testimony to God.

These stories represent many, many others who serve God faithfully around the world and whose stories will never be told. I tell mine because some of you will relate. I recount them because God uses ordinary people like me to build his church. Each one of us plays a small part in our corner of the world for a tiny slice of history.
